May Potluck

May's potluck will take place on Tuesday, May 21st. We are working to arrange a program on Elder Law Education.

Ladies Lunch Bunch

As usual we'll meet in the church parking lot at 11:30 to carpool. The Highland Restaurant, 100 Fenn Street in Pittsfield, is our destination this month.

Easy Ride Trip

Our trip this month is to the Norman Rockwell Museum in Stockbridge with lunch at the Morgan House in Lee. We will be leaving early, at 8:30, from the church parking lot so we can be there when they open at 10:00. Note: because of the higher admission cost, the COA will be covering a portion of the admission.

Future Trips Planned:

(sign up early- only 12 seats on the van!)

June – Hancock Shaker Village, Pittsfield

July – Bridge of Flowers, Shelburne Falls

August – Northfield Mountain – Quinnetukut II
Riverboat Cruise, Northfield

September – Big E, West Springfield

Important: we need a minimum of 8 people signed up for trips in order to use the Easy Ride van. Call the COA office to reserve your seat: 634-2262.

All other needlework activities will run as usual. Next month Anne Parsons will be offering lessons for beginner quilters on Mondays, June 17th and 24th.

Fun with Games & Movie Matinee

Due to lack of interest, the COA is cancelling the 'fun with games' and 'movie matinee' activities. We may try again in the fall.

Seniors Aware of Fire Education

Spring is finally here and we love getting out in it, even with the Spring chores. Here's a couple of ideas on how to enjoy spring safely:

- Fill your mower with gas when the engine is cool.
- Store gasoline outside the house, in a detached garage or shed.
- If you get gas on your clothing, remember it's the gas vapor that is flammable, so wash them as soon as possible.
- Store gas only in the RED containers marked for gasoline.
- Do not start cooking fires with gasoline.
- It's supposed to be another bad year for ticks, so cover up and spray before going out for a hike or yard work.
- Check for ticks on you when coming in from being in the great outdoors.

Enjoy a SAFE Spring

--Worth Noyes, SAFE Educator
Williamsburg & Cummington Fire Departments

The Senior SAFE program is sponsored by many of your fire departments and the Massachusetts Department of Fire Services.

Things I Learned from MOM

1. We don't live in a barn.

2. Life's not fair.

3. Things don't just sprout legs and walk away.

4. You are not my maid.

The Big Five! Advance Directive, aka Living Will, and the MOLST

This is not the most pleasant thing to think about, but I'm betting the majority of us saw the situation or have experience in which a person was not allowed to die with dignity or in their own way. An advance directive will let you spell out any wishes about the types of care you do or do not wish to receive, if you are unable to speak for yourself.

How NOT to do it: decades ago, my parents wrote a living will and mailed me a copy, then started on a road trip of some weeks duration. I had no idea what they had written, why they had written it, where they had gone, what they were doing or were going to do. Things are better now – we can talk about the subject and prepare documents with a lot of thought for and knowledge of medical circumstances we might face.

In our state, we also have the MOLST – Medical Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment. We have been given a copy by hospitals, the VA, and perhaps a doctor's office to fill out and have on file. This standardized form lets us indicate what forms of life-sustaining care we might or might not want, and the form can stand alone or be used in conjunction with a separate advance directive that provides additional information regarding our wishes. It is helpful to talk about the form with others, like your family, health care proxy, and doctor, to ensure that they will do their best to follow the instructions you leave. Two good online resources are: www.molst-ma.org/download-molst-form and www.mayoclinic.org/healthy-lifestyle/consumer-health/in-depth/living-wills/art-20046303

You've talked with your family and doctor, filled out and signed the paperwork, had it signed or witnessed, so now what? Keep the originals where they can be found. Tell your family you have done this (please!). Give a copy to your health care providers and your health care proxy (see March newsletter), and carry a card in your wallet that says you have a MOLST and advance directive. If you travel, take a copy with you. Then continue to enjoy your life!

To a long life,

Northern Hilltowns Consortium of Councils on Aging welcomes Deb Hollingworth

Deb is filling the new position of Regional Community Facilitator. She will help each COA and community develop the next phase of the "Hilltown Strong Communities for Aging in Place" grant initiative from the Executive Office of Elder Affairs. Deb comes to the position with extensive experience in aging. The best summary of her background and achievements has been noted in the Jim Quinn Human Services Award she received:

Deborah Hollingworth has been saying "how can I help you" for the past 25 years as she answers calls from seniors, their family caregivers and fellow colleagues, connecting them with the resources they need. Deborah is a licensed social worker, has been a SHINE counselor for 20 years, a Certified Information Specialist for almost a decade, but perhaps more importantly, has been a parent caregiver herself. Having been there, done that, makes it easier to help folks dealing with the same issues.

In addition to helping seniors and their families, Deborah has worked as a jobs counselor, provided family support services for Food Pantry clients, and social work for VNAs. She has presented workshops for seniors, health care professionals, family caregivers, college students in a variety of settings including 14 years as a workshop presenter at the WNEU social work conference, guest speaker for Smith College's school of social work, programs at HCC, AIC, STCC, GCC, Westfield State and Jewish Community Center's Life Enrichment series, as well as the Massachusetts Law Reform Institute, and National Agency on Aging conference, as well as a guest on Susan Kaplan's Water Cooler series on WGBY.

Welcome, Deb!
Our Consortium is lucky to have you with us.

Help and Support for Caregivers

As a caregiver for a parent or spouse, or for a child with special needs, you may feel overwhelmed and at times invisible. And you may develop caregiver fatigue. Williamsburg Senior Center would like to start a Caregiver Support Group if people are interested. Contact Sherry or Jenn at 268-8407.

ART EXHIBIT

Gray and Gay:
Reflections on Love Makes a Family

May 1-June 30
Reception: May 19, 2-5pm

Chesterfield Community Center
400 Main Road Chesterfield, MA

Hosted By Chesterfield Council on Aging

The art exhibit opening at the Community Center features the photo text exhibit "Love Makes a Family". First shown 25 years ago, it features twenty LGBT families. Although originally intended to bring a positive image to families not usually represented in schools and colleges, it became a milestone in the movement when an Amherst grade school and the creators of the exhibit were sued by five families in order to keep it from being shown. This lawsuit became a national case and brought national press attention to the issue.

Please join us on May 19 from 2 to 5 at the Chesterfield Community Center to see the exhibit, talk with friends and enjoy light refreshments.
