Seniors Aware of Fire Education

This year has seen a significant increase in violent storms in the southern United States. I hope this is not an indication that we will have tornados in the months to come, but here are a important survival tips in case of a violent storm:

- ⇒ GET INSIDE. If you are outside, get inside. When you are inside, get as far inside the middle as you can away from windows and doors.
- ⇒ GET DOWN. Get underground if possible. If you do not have a basement, go to the lowest floor possible.
- ⇒ COVER UP. Flying debris and glass in a violent storm are the number one killer. Stay under the stairs or in a room or space without windows. Use pillows, blankets, coats, or anything else to cover up, protecting your head and body from flying debris.
- ⇒ TO GO. Have a TO GO bag with you in which you have your medicines, clothing, documents, cell phone, credit cards, any thing you may need for an extended time away from home.

I sincerely hope that you will not need it, but it never hurts to be prepared.

Stay S.A.F.E.!

MediCARE uh oh

Says the caller, I CARE that you are eligible to get a new Medicare card with a security chip, and I just want to verify your number so we can send it. And, he says, if you give me your social security number I can see what additional benefits you may be able to receive. Or she says, I would like to send you a new knee brace and it won't cost you a penny! Just give me a credit card number so you can easily pay the minimal shipping costs.

The caller may be sweet as pie offering things as above, or you may get threats: If you don't verify your social security number, we will have to cancel your Medicare coverage. You have a medical bill that must be paid now or you will not be able to fill your next prescription. There has been suspicious activity on your account and we need to verify your identity or you will be liable for charges.

Phooey on those callers! You know how much medical care can cost, it's a big business. If a scammer can rip off your information, they can turn your good name into lots of dollars. They may also spend your benefits on actual care for themselves, so when you make a claim you find your benefits are already used. Medicare reminds us that:

1. Our Medicare number needs to be kept secure, just like a credit card number.
2. Medicare will never call you. You will get a letter if they need to contact you.
3. No Medicare person will make a house call.
4. Medicare cannot enroll you over the phone unless you called first.
5. Medicare cards do not expire, so there is no need to send you a new one.

If you suspect a Medicare card scam, report it to Medicare at 800-633-4227. I tried the number – you will need to say "Report a fraud" and give your date of birth, then get transferred to a person. They will ask for your Medicare number to continue.

With care,

May's Good News

By Deb Hollingworth

Lately I've been getting questions about Lifelines, also called "personal emergency response" systems. So here's some information on what they are, how they work, what they cost and who pays, along with a list of providers.

These medical alert systems have advanced far beyond the basic pendant you wear around your neck. These days the range of options include wrist bands, belt accessories, phone apps, and can be part of a home security system. Features include: wellness checks, medication reminders, remote control for answering the phone. And they can come with a GPS tracking device. Or, you can still get a pendant that you wear around your neck, with a button to push if you fall and can't get up.

If you push that button, or if you fall and the pendant registers that impact, the Call Center comes on line and will begin to ask if you are all right. If you respond, you can have a conversation with the Call Center to let them know how best to help. For instance, one of their first questions will be, do you want us to call an ambulance? Or should we contact your neighbor, family, friend who you have listed as someone who helps in an emergency? If you are not able to respond, the Call Center will call 911 emergency services and give them details you listed in your personal information.

I remember receiving a call at work one afternoon from the Call Center saying my Mom had fallen and she agreed to be transported to the hospital. We had set up the Call Center procedure to notify family when an event occurred, whether or not Mom agreed to hospital transport. The Call Center will have necessary emergency information to help EMT responders and/or they will contact whoever you have indicated as your emergency contacts.

What does a Lifeline cost? Prices range, depending on what features you choose. The basic pendant ranges from $20 - $35 per month depending on provider. Lifelines that also act as medication dispensers start at $70 per month and up.

Who pays? Medicare does not pay. MassHealth does. If you are a State Home Care client with Highland Valley, Lifeline can be one of the services you receive. To qualify, you would need to have a medical condition that makes you prone to falls, or need help managing your Rx, or have dementia and be at risk of wandering. In these cases, Highland Valley might pay for your Life Line.

There are at least a dozen Lifeline providers who service our area. Here are a few:

- ⇒ Bay Alarm Medical 844-805-7647
- ⇒ Medical Guardian 800-487-7415
- ⇒ Medical Alert 800-833-0850
- ⇒ Phillips Lifeline 855-651-7015
- ⇒ Link to Life 888-544-4462
- ⇒ Ready Home Medical Alarms LLC 413-535-3035
- ⇒ SafetyNet by LoJack 877-434-6384

For more information on their specific products you can Google them and check out their websites. Or you can find Lifeline products through retailers like Walmart, CVS or through national cell phone carriers like Verizon or AT&T.

Being a Caregiver: Can't we talk about something more pleasant?

Sometimes portrayals of caregivers are based on an embedded assumption that the caring is based on existing loving and supportive relationships within a the family, a notion that, for some, seems too good to be true. The life of a caregiver is often far more complicated and stressful, especially when it comes to caring for parents. Not every family is a replica of the "Waltons". Messages like "We don't share family business and you shouldn't complain" are often internalized and pop up when the child becomes an adult. Getting through this can be tough unless there are chances to vent.

Sometimes it's necessary to face the tougher topics in life by softening them with humor. Roz Chast, a cartoonist for the New Yorker, has achieved this in talking about what it's like to help aging parents as they reach the end of their lives and also deal with the complex nature of longstanding personal and family dynamics. Her memoir is a mix of text and special cartoons. If you've seen her cartoons in the New Yorker, you'll recognize her style. Not everyone can pull off telling a story in a way that is honest, touching, engaging, sad and funny at the same time. It's not full of clinical lingo, facts, directions and advice. It's a more down to earth portrayal of one of the most difficult rites of passage we face. It's available through CWMARS at the library or if you go online there are several other very affordable sources. Published by Bloomsbury Press 2014.

Open HIP Locations: Hampshire County

What is HIP?

The Healthy Incentives Program (HIP) is a Massachusetts state program where SNAP recipients get at least $40 of extra SNAP money every month to spend on local fruits and vegetables. That means if you have SNAP, you automatically have HIP! Shop at the eligible farm locations with your SNAP/EBT card, and get at least $40 extra to spend through the HIP program. Note: you must have at least $1 on your SNAP/EBT card when you go and shop; in other words, you need to have a balance on your EBT card in order to earn the HIP incentive.

How to find a HIP location near you: Locations are organized by county. Addresses are listed for each location, including zip codes. To search by zip code and find the location closest to you, visit buylocalfood.org/hip-map to view our new map! Visit the delivery service websites to see if they offer delivery or pickup near your home! For up-to-date information on locations, as well as other locations in the rest of the Pioneer Valley, see www.facebook.com/HIP.PioneerValley or contact Ellery at ellery@buylocalfood.org.

Why do I need Prescription Advantage?

"Why do I need Prescription Advantage?" This question is often asked. Many say, "I don't need it. I already have a Medicare Part D plan" or "I have coverage from my former employer." Even with Part D or other coverage, there are many reasons to join Prescription Advantage, including:

- It does not replace your existing coverage, it supplements it;
- It can lower your co-pays if you reach that coverage gap, also known as the "donut hole";
- It allows you to change your Medicare plan outside of Medicare's open enrollment;
- At certain income levels it's FREE!

Prescription Advantage also provides benefits for individuals age 65 and older who are not eligible for Medicare, as well as those under age 65 with a qualified disability.

Find out how Prescription Advantage can help you by calling 1 (800) 243-4636 or visiting prescriptionadvantagemma.org Prescription Advantage is administered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs.
