Welcome January!

"Thank goodness for the first snow, it was a reminder of how old you became and how much you'd seen, things could still be new if you were willing to believe they still mattered."

~Candace Bushnell

48 buckets of sand were delivered to homes of seniors who had requested delivery in partnership with the Worthington Police Department and Fire & Rescue, the Hampshire County Sheriff and TRIAD.

You're never too old to give your list to Santa. The Worthington Recreation Committee sponsored a tree lighting ceremony December 9th with carolers and guests of all ages.

COA Annual Holiday Luncheon Dec. 11

Yes, Santa does watch whether you're naughty or nice! 65 attended a great lunch provided by Comfort Kitchen and Bar. It was time to relax and enjoy the conversations of others. Even Santa was there to brighten up the spirit of the holiday. Gifts were also to "grab". Three storage buckets of new socks were donated to be distributed to the homeless. If still interested in donating, you may label them and leave them in front of the COA office.

Good News for those suffering from Buyer's Remorse

By Deb Hollingworth

During Open Enrollment for Medicare, Oct. 15 - Dec. 7th, we were bombarded with advertising about those Flex cards and all the benefits they could provide—money for groceries, over the counter meds, some even said money for your utility bills? We got ads in our mailbox, on tv, in our email and on Instagram. It seemed relentless. And maybe you checked on "want more information" or maybe you even called the phone number on your screen and now you find you have enrolled in a Medicare Advantage Plan.

I'm guilty of having a bad attitude about Medicare Advantage plans. I know they offer additional benefits that you can't get with just "original Medicare A & B". Most offer Rx coverage and now these Flex card benefits, but like some good things, we should look this gift horse in the mouth.

Advantage plans used to be called Medicare Managed Care plans because that's what they do: they manage your Medicare benefit, which is why you need to get a referral from your doctor in order to see a specialist, or a referral for some medical procedures. But the most worrisome detail is that not all hospitals and not all doctors accept them. And you may have the unwelcome surprise if you sign up and then discover your doctor or hospital doesn't accept your Advantage Plan. So you would be charged an out of network co-pay for services, or in some cases, just billed for the whole cost of care because your Advantage plan doesn't cover that doctor, that hospital or that treatment.

Good News: from January 1st to March 31st each year we are given a time to dump our Medicare Advantage plan if we don't like it. And we can switch back to original Medicare A & B and enroll in a Medicare D plan for Rx coverage, or we can switch to another Advantage Plan where our doctor(s) and hospital(s) are in network.

NOTE: While Health New England and BlueCross Advantage plans have contracts with Baystate hospital and Baystate providers, other Advantage plans in our area do not.

If you want more information, you can contact your senior center and ask for a SHINE counselor appointment. Meanwhile, if you have signed up for an Advantage plan, check with your doctor to see if he/she is in network and can bill your Plan.

Seniors Aware of Fire Education

One New Year's resolution that can save your family's lives is to create your own home escape plan. Here are a few things to consider when you do this:

- Plan two ways out of each room in your house. Windows can be a way out if necessary. Draw the escape routes on graph paper and post where it can be seen.
- If you cannot get out the door safely, go to a window and get out if you can do so safely and, if not, signal for help at the window.
- Teach your grandchildren to never hide under the bed or in a closet, but to go to the window and signal for help.
- If you have to go through smoke, get low and go. The clearer, cleaner air will be up to 18 inches off the floor.
- Set up a meeting place outside the house where everyone should gather after getting out of the house. You will be happy and so would the firefighters knowing that everyone is safely out of the fire.
- Once out, stay out. Do not go back into a burning building for anything.
- Call the fire department (911) once you are outside, using your cell phone or a neighbor's phone.
- Put your home escape plan into action. Do a home fire drill twice a year, ending up at your meeting place.

Have a S.A.F.E. New Year!

Highland Valley Elder Services serves older adults and their families through collaboration, education, advocacy and a range of programs designed to support them where they live. One of the many ways we support older adults to live safely in the community is through administering the Frail Elder Waiver. This is a Home and Community Based Waiver Program designed to make in-home services and supports available to frail elders in Massachusetts, 60 and over, who meet the level of care for a nursing facility but prefer to remain in the community. These services and supports are available through the Medicaid plan. Individuals clinically eligible for this waiver will also have a higher income threshold for accessing Medicaid services in the state.

To learn more about the Frail Elder Waiver, or to schedule a free consultation with a Certified Application Counselor, please call:

The Book- Part 5. Wrap-Up

By Jean O' Neil and Deb Hollingworth

Here we are, grappling with New Year's resolutions, wanting to make THIS the year we get organized. Well, you may be quite pleased (or is that relieved?) to know we are almost done with this topic. In the past four newsletters we have attempted to lay out a road map to getting all our important information collected and sorted. If tackling all this was hard, let us suggest that the trick is to start with small bits at a time.

Maybe take each Part and divide it up. Set a goal of getting all our "Emergency Information" together in one place, and while we are at it, get the File of Life on our refrigerator. Then take a month and work on Assets, another month for Liabilities, another to dealing with the Wallet issue, then break up the House matters (Overhead, Management, Improvements). Get a print copy of all the previous Parts articles and check things off as you do them.

There are two other points to consider. First, for your circumstance, is there anything you think is useful that we didn't list?

And along the lines of final wrap-up planning, include documents on burial insurance, cemetery plots, and designated funeral home. Be very clear about how you want your body treated. Explain the location of any life insurance policy. Add any personal wishes that are not already recorded, perhaps some music you would like played at your farewell. On top of these folders or notebook sections should be contact information for who to call and their relationship to you.

Now, why have we spent so much time on this, as in Why Bother?! Surely there must be something more interesting and fun to do? Well, yes, but we need this information to:

1. Keep us safe and functioning. It aid a friend or family member in helping us if we are incapacitated.
2. Apply for benefits like affordable health insurance, Circuit Breaker property tax rebate, SNAP, or fuel assistance.
3. Have this information in case we need to check on household bills or budget when they get paid. So when you get billed twice for your tax prep, you can quickly locate the "paid" receipt. Or when your home owners insurance bill doesn't arrive, you can put your hands on last year's bill and the name/phone number of your agent.
4. If we want to do estate planning or if we have a financial planner, some of this information is necessary for them to work with us.
5. Being more organized can be a major stress reducer.

If you make this your New Year's resolution and want copies of past chapters or the Table of Contents for getting organized, you can ask your senior center. In Goshen, you can ask for a "critical information" binder.

Good luck and know that just getting started is the hard part.
